SATURDAY GARDENS
9AM TO 4PM

01 7 Hillbrook Way Tamahere

A Joyful Garden Overflowing with Roses and Colour

Dr Sarkaw Randhawa and Jujhar Singh Randhawa have created a joyful haven they describe as their happy place—a therapeutic retreat filled with colour and more than 600 roses, including a spectacular rose lined driveway. Their garden blends beauty and family life, featuring vibrant plantings alongside a large purpose built play area for their children. It's a warm, welcoming space where colour, fragrance and happiness come together.

02 491A Bruntwood Rd. Tamahere

A Plantsman's Paradise of Diversity and Discovery

Richard and Sarah's expansive garden is a paradise for plant lovers, featuring more than 1,600 trees, shrubs, roses and perennials. Described by Richard as a "plant person's garden", it flows through connected spaces, each with its own character. A passionate plantsman, Richard has documented every specimen and developed the garden over many years. The result is a diverse landscape that rewards exploration at every turn.

03 21 Racecourse Rd. Cambridge

A Country Garden with Timeless Character

Set on an expansive property, this garden unfolds gradually, revealing sweeping lawns and free-flowing plantings. A grand 1916 character home, relocated from Palmerston North 11 years ago, sits proudly as though it has always belonged. A grape-covered courtyard, entrance cottage and welcoming atmosphere add to its charm. Visitors can also enjoy refreshments in the grounds and browse an antiques and brocante market stall during the Festival.

04 33 Robinson St. Cambridge

A Small Site Masterpiece of Craft and Creativity

Luke's garden is a striking example of what can be achieved on a small site. Developed over six years, it showcases clever design and craftsmanship, with pebble inlays, lime-fine pathways for permeability, and a multitude of thoughtful features that reflect Luke's skill as a professional landscaper. Every inch of space has been used to create a visually engaging, detailed garden that offers both interest and a tranquil place to relax and enjoy the ambience.

05 36 Richmond St. Cambridge

A Restored Oasis of Native Beauty and Serenity

Renate's "Town Oasis" is a peaceful sanctuary filled with birds, wildlife and native plantings. Majestic tōtara, kauri, mānuka and pūriri create a beautiful backdrop, while recycled and upcycled materials, including brick flooring from the old police house, add character. Through years of careful restoration and respect for the land's natural character, Renate has created a timeless, sustainable haven that is both welcoming and inspiring.

06 97 Wells Pl. Cambridge

A Rambling Country Garden Full of Charm and Discovery

Jan and Bill are festival regulars, welcoming visitors to their enchanting one-acre country garden. A hydrangea lover's paradise, it features 190 named varieties and more than 400 hydrangeas, complemented by hostas and Japanese maples. This peaceful, rambling garden is always evolving under Jan's creative care. Jan will happily share her hydrangea expertise, and plants will be available to buy. Every visit reveals something new to discover.

07 105 French Pass Rd. Cambridge

A Tranquil Country Retreat Decades in the Making

Anne and Steve Spelchan have spent more than 40 years transforming their property into the colourful retreat it is today. Seasonal blooms greet visitors at every turn, while mature trees provide structure and welcome summer shade. Beautifully maintained lawns enhance the rambling garden beds, creating a peaceful, relaxing space where decades of care, creativity, and a genuine love of the land shine through.

08 2/182 French Pass Rd. Cambridge

A Designer's Garden of Style and Precision

Award-winning interior designer Juliet Coleman brings her creative flair into the garden. A sweeping curved driveway leads to a home framed by flowing grasses, sculpted shrubs and elegant topiaries. Immaculate potager gardens, manicured trees, and abundant vegetables and flowers create refined outdoor rooms. Every detail has been thoughtfully considered, making this pristine country garden both stylish and welcoming. It is a beautiful space, well worth taking the time to explore.

09 172 Flume Rd. Te Miro

A Garden of Abundance Designed for All Who Live Above and Below the Soil

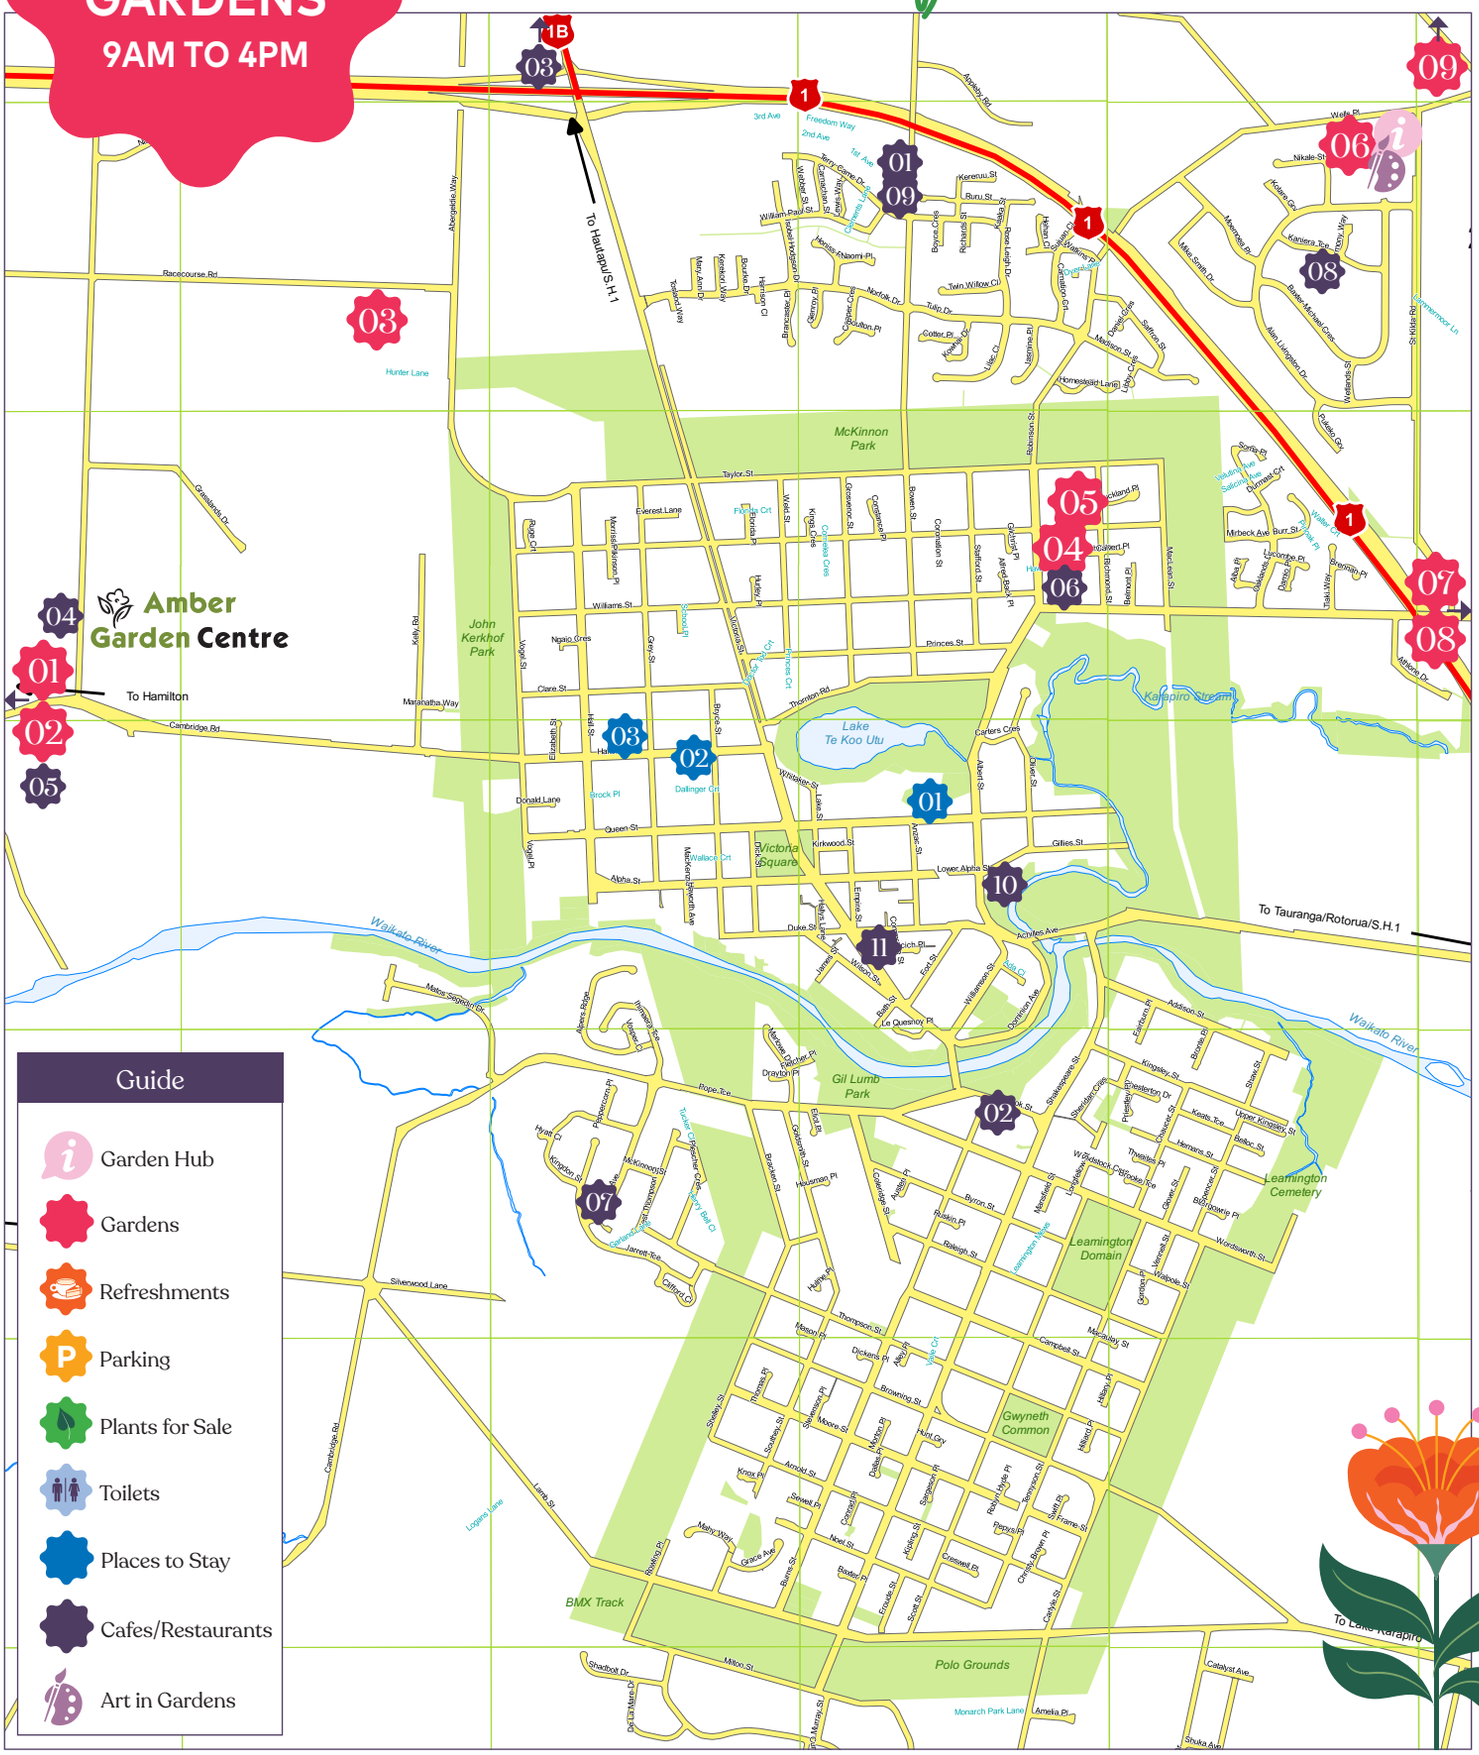

Rachel Chamberlain and David Oldershaw have created a garden of interconnected spaces, blending native plantings, food gardens, flower borders and productive areas for seed raising and composting. Designed to nourish both people and nature, the garden provides food for family, pollinators and healthy soil. While visiting, support the Cambridge High School Rowing Fundraiser by purchasing a raffle ticket and helping local rowers.
